FIIG Securities has appointed Andrew Gordon as director, fixed income research at its Sydney office.

Gordon will be responsible for analysing the fixed-income securities of Australian corporations and US banks for FIIG Securities' clients.

Before joining FIIG Securities, Gordon was a director of debt capital markets at Bank of America Merrill Lynch in London and New York where he responsible for structuring, credit research, analysis and execution of high-yield bonds and other debt products.

He also worked at Commonwealth Bank in Sydney.

The appointment comes as FIIG continues to expand its market-leading research team to provide full coverage of Australian fixed-income securities for investors who want access to secure investments which provide a reliable income stream.

FIIG Securities offers private investors access to Australia's widest range of domestic and international corporate bonds through its DirectBonds service.
